Evan Stanfield

Evan Stanfield – 11:30 - 12:00

Stanfield is a third year student in Art History and Studio Arts working with the traditions of printmaking alongside digital technologies. Through his series of three untitled prints an underlying tension between the traditional and contemporary printmaking processes is implied.

Aside from being an artist, Evan's has worked as a studio technician, archivist, and an artist's assistant.

Marie Dauverné - 12:00 - 12:30 in French en français

Dauverné is a first year BFA student in Drawing and Painting/ minor in Film Animation. The dynamics of interconnexion between the private and public environments are explored within Dauverné's work.

'Expansion #1' explores human relationships within public/private spaces through a large-scale drawing installation. Dauverné has been a part of many festivals and events such as the Art Matters Festival and Nuit Blanche sur Tableau Noir.
